

Everett's Good Record As Alderman-at-Large

Republican Candidate Has Shown Himself Thorough Student of City Affairs During Term as Alderman and In Office for Which He Has Been Named to Succeed Himself—Applies Business Methods in Transacting City's Business.

C. Ray Everett, the Republican candidate to succeed himself this fall as alderman-at-large, first became actively interested in the government of Kingston when he was appointed alderman of the Eleventh ward to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Henry Behrens. At the expiration of his term of office he was selected as the Republican candidate for alderman of that ward and elected by a handsome majority in 1925. Later he was unanimously selected by the members of the common council to become president of the council, which position he now holds.

Mr. Everett is the son of Charles B. Everett, who for a number of years was connected with the Staples feed and flour business on Mill street, and while employed by that concern the elder Mr. Everett made many friends in all sections of the city. Later the elder Mr. Everett took over the Styles grocery and bakery at Wall and Main streets, which business is now being successfully conducted by C. Ray Everett.

Preferred Business to Law.
Educated in the public schools of the city and a graduate of old Kingston Academy, Mr. Everett took up the study of law at Cornell University, but finally decided in preference to a business rather than a legal career.

While serving the city as a member of the common council Mr. Everett was very active and took part in many of the important subjects debated from the council floor. Keenly interested in the development of the city at large, he endeavored at all times to ascertain what was for the best interests of the city before he cast a vote on any important legislation that arose in the common council.

Unanimous Choice of Both Parties.
As a result of his activities and the ability he had displayed as alderman, when it became necessary for the common council to elect a presiding officer to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Alderman-at-large Edgar J. Dempsey to the mayorship at the death of the late Mayor Morris Block, the Democratic majority of the common council united with the Republican minority and unanimously elected Alderman Everett to become presiding officer.

As alderman-at-large of the common council, Mr. Everett has worked always with the best interests of the city in view. At the time of the burning of the city hall last June he was called upon to appoint a building committee from the members of the common council and appointed Alderman Haines, Republican of the Second ward, and Alderman Mann, Democrat, of the Sixth ward, as representing both uptown and downtown sections, and that committee has been very active.

In addition to his duties as a member of the common council Mr. Everett has devoted considerable time to the various drives that were staged in the city by the Salvation Army, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., and has always been active in the religious and fraternal life of the city.

Carefully Studied City Government.
When he first assumed office as an alderman he took up the study of city government, and became one of the most aggressive members of the common council. He made it a point while alderman to thoroughly study any important question that arose and satisfied himself thoroughly in the matter before casting his vote.

While serving as chairman of the building and supply committee of the common council, he was active in seeing to it that the orders for the supplies purchased for the city government were placed among the merchants in all sections of the city. Mr. Everett has always taken a keen and active interest in the development of the city and can always be found firmly behind any project that tends for the advancement of the entire city.

In all his dealings with the public as a member of the common council he has shown that he was fair and impartial. As presiding officer of the common council he has a firm grasp of the rules necessary for the successful carrying on of the city affairs. Mr. Everett has always been found square and honorable, and like Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey, he is a man who can be depended upon to fulfill the duties of his office.

Office Needs Capable Man.
Next to the mayor the office of alderman-at-large is the most important one in the city government and needs a man who is capable, if found necessary, to assume the reins of government. Such a man Mr. Everett has proven himself to be and he should be returned to office by a large majority in November.

City Settles One Damage Claim, One Rejected

Caroline Nawe to Receive $205—Catherine Kenney's $3,000 Claim Rejected—Third Ward Park Site Would Cost $22,000—Fire Board's Application to Issue Notes Tabled.

Adjusting a $1,000 damage claim against the city for $205 and rejecting a claim for $3,000 damages, hearing the report of the committee on a proposed city park in the Third ward which could be purchased for $22,000; tabling the request of the board of fire commissioners for permission to borrow $12,000 on notes to pay for the fire apparatus last purchased; and receiving a report from the building committee on the city hall that plans were progressing and that they would shortly be ready to submit to contractors, were the more important matters taken up at the common council meeting Tuesday evening at the Municipal Building on East O'Reilly street. All of the aldermen were present with the exception of Alderman Clare, who had been excused.

Five Roof Trusses.
Alderman Haines, of the building committee, submitted a report that the committee of three architects in charge of the restoration of city hall building be authorized to ask for quotations on five steel roof trusses as specified in the building plans and that such quotations when received be submitted to the common council. The report was adopted.

C. Ray Everett, alderman-at-large, explained to the council that the plans for the restoration of the city hall were rapidly nearing completion and would shortly be ready to submit to contractors. Two men have been working day and night on the plans and there have been a number of meetings held by the members of the building committee with the architects. The trusses to be purchased are of steel and the architects recommended that the city purchase them outright and only include in the specifications on the restoration, the installation of the trusses.

Table $13,000 Request.
The request of the board of fire commissioners asking for authorization to borrow $13,000 on notes, proceeds to be used for paying for the last piece of fire equipment purchased by the fire board, was tabled on motion of Alderman O'Reilly, who said he could not understand why the fire board went ahead and expended such an amount of money and did not make provision for it in its budget.

Alderman O'Reilly raised the question when the vote on the adoption of the request was being taken, and acting under the rules which govern the common council the introducer of the resolution, Alderman Moore, withdrew it, in which action all who had voted in favor of it concurred.

Third Ward Park.
The committee appointed to investigate the proposed park site in the Third ward, Alderman Haines, Sharkey, Fox, and McManus, submitted a report to the council stating that they had met with Max L. Reben, representing the interests holding the property. Mr. Reben said the property in question had been taken over as a residential development and was valued at $25,350, consisting as it did of 51 building lots at an average value of $500 each. However, if the city desired the property for park purposes he would deduct 20 per cent from that amount, making the cost to the city of $20,280. Mr. Reben stated the owners of the development would be willing to hold up the further sale of lots for a period of sixty days to give the city a chance to decide.

Alderman Moore said he understood that members of the committee believed the price asked for the land was too high, but in order that the project might not be killed entirely, he would move to table the report of the committee, which action was taken.

Settle Nawe Claim.
The auditing committee reported in regard to the claim of Caroline Nawe, who asked $1,000 damages of the city. She had already started suit in the Supreme court. She was injured by falling over an obstruction on the sidewalk in front of the engine house on Hone street on March 31, 1925, fracturing her right arm near the elbow. An adjustment could be made for $205 without costs, and the committee recommended that the claim be adjusted for that amount. The report was unanimously adopted by the council.

Kenney Claim Rejected.
The auditing committee also reported in favor of rejecting the claim of Catherine Kenney for $3,000 damages for alleged injuries she claimed she had received on September 2 last by stepping into a sewer grating at St. James street and Broadway. The report was adopted.

Motions and Resolutions.
The following motions and resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper city boards:
Alderman Sharkey—That Pearl street, between Washington avenue and Johnson avenue, be repaired; that catch basin on Hurley avenue, just north of Van Deusen avenue, be placed in shape to care for street drainage; that Burgerin street be

Congregationalists Meeting in Kingston

Fifty-third Annual Session of Hudson River Association of Congregational Churches Opens in Ponckhockie Church—Twenty-five Churches Represented—Interesting Two Days' Program of Addresses by Well Known Clergymen.

Rev. O. A. Smith and Church, Nogales, Arizona.

The Hudson River Association of Congregational Ministers and Churches is holding its fifty-third annual session in the Ponckhockie Congregational Church, the Rev. F. W. Moot, pastor.

This afternoon addresses were delivered by the Rev. Alexander B. MacLeod, of Poughkeepsie, Prof. Warren C. Taylor of Union College, Mr. Henry F. White and the Rev. Walter H. Rollins, D. D., state oficers. The association sermon was delivered by the Rev. Charles S. Hager of Albany.

This evening Dr. Lucas Boeve, pastor of the First Dutch Reformed Church of this city, will speak on "The Minister and the Church of Today" and the Rev. Ansel E. Johnson of Syracuse will give an address on "The Adventure".

Thursday forenoon will be given over largely to the business of the association and the meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society.

Officers and Churches.
The officers of the association are: Moderator, Rev. J. C. Simpson of Schenectady; vice moderator, Charles J. Fox, Gloversville; registrar, Rev. George F. Robbins, Rensselaer; treasurer, Theodore L. Reeve of Middletown.

The Hudson River Association is composed of twenty-five churches. The churches are located in Albany, Barryville, Blooming Grove, Eldred, Gloversville, Howells, Kingston, Middletown, Newburgh, New Lebanon, Pine Island, Poughkeepsie, Rensselaer, Saratoga Springs, Saugerties, Schenectady, South Granville, South Hartford, Spring Valley, Stuyvesant Falls, Tallman, Troy, Watervliet.

A "home" missionary and a "foreign" missionary in one and the same person is the Rev. O. A. Smith of Nogales, Arizona, scheduled as a speaker at the meeting of the association.

Trinity Congregational Church, Nogales, Arizona, of which Mr. Smith is pastor, is both a "home" mission and a "foreign" mission station. Only a city street separates Nogales, Arizona, from another town of the same name in Mexico. They are really one city. Nogales is the port of entry to the west coast of Mexico and 85 per cent of American business with Mexico is said to originate there. On account of its peculiar location its inter-city life is the focal point for international and transcontinental activities.

The combined population of the two towns in 19,000, a cosmopolitan people, composed of many races, and since the "border" is only an imaginary line running through the center of the main street, their problems and interests are practically the same. The welfare of two towns, instead of one, is the concern of Mr. Smith and Trinity Church.

"Double Barreled" Work.
People from all parts of the world get stranded in Nogales and this factored "foreign missions" on to American soil and people. One person visiting this Trinity Church said: "It is the first time I ever saw home and foreign missions carried on under the same roof by the same man." Mr. Smith carries on what might be called a "double-barreled" work, and does it with the utmost efficiency and helpfulness.

He suggested and directed the formation of an International Social Service Bureau which includes Catholics, Jews, Protestants, and representatives of every nationality in the city. This bureau carries on work among all people who need help. He is executive secretary of the bureau and his task includes such a variety of things as providing food, clothing, medicine, doctors and nurses. Rentals, social, religious, labor, and economic conditions come under his jurisdiction.

The Work Accomplished.
The amount of good that this work accomplishes can be roughly estimated when it is noted that last year the executive secretary and his assistant personally cared for 3,655 people, 2,238 of whom were children. This required more than 6,000 visits which established contacts with many types of individuals and organizations, ranging from schools and churches to railroad and national officials, both in Mexico and the United States.

It seems almost superhuman for one man to be able to accomplish and attend to such a numerous array of tasks, but Mr. Smith, busy from early morning to near midnight, is untiring in his faithful work; and this little church, sitting at the doorway of two nations, is doing for the world at large a service which cannot be computed in figures.

Woman Witness Warmly Praises Mrs. F. E. S. Knapp

Mrs. Squyer in Charge of Albany Census Office Praises Mrs. Knapp Following Her Testimony—Spectators in Assembly Parlor Get Their First Laugh.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, was warmly praised by a woman witness today as the official investigation into the administration of the 1925 state census, conducted by Mrs. Knapp, was resumed before Randall J. LeBeauf, Jr., special commissioner named by Governor Smith.

The witness was Mrs. Florence C. Squyer of Syracuse, who had charge of the census office here. After she had completed her testimony relating to routine administrative matters she was asked by Mr. LeBeauf whether there was anything else she wanted to say.

"I think something might be said on Mrs. Knapp's part in the census," replied Mrs. Squyer. "Anybody who knows her knows what a worker she is and any one she gathered about her worked just as she did."

Mrs. Knapp and other persons had told her, the witness continued, that as soon as Mrs. Knapp was elected she had studied the census work.

Worked Hard, Early and Late.
"I know she worked hard early and late," continued Mrs. Squyer, "and I believe she did a wonderful piece of work."

Asked on what she based her opinion, Mrs. Squyer, who had said she was familiar with the operations of the federal census bureau, replied that census experts in Washington had expressed that view.

Asked to identify various persons said to have been on the census payroll, Mrs. Squyer said she did not remember having seen the names of the relatives of Mrs. Knapp who have been named as recipients of salary checks. Neither did the witness recall Veronica Maher or Miss Rose Ryan, the women mentioned as having received money for which little or no work was done. Mrs. Squyer said she did remember that Mrs. Margaret R. Ryan had worked at the bureau, but she did not know whether Rose Ryan and this person were the same individual.

Spectators Get First Laugh.
Spectators in the assembly parlor, where the hearing is being held, got their first laugh when Mrs. Squyer testified concerning her acquaintance with Dr. Walter Laidlaw, secretary of the Cities' Census Committee, Inc., which charged Mrs. Knapp with maladministration of the $1,200,000 census fund. Laidlaw was at one time tabulation supervisor for the 1925 enumeration.

Asked if she knew him, Mrs. Squyer replied: "Very well."

The emphasis was on the very and everybody laughed.

"What work did he do?" queried Mr. LeBeauf.

"Not much of anything," she answered. "He walked around the office and tried to appear to do things. I do not know what he succeeded in doing."

Again the spectators giggled.

In The Surrogate's Court.
In the surrogate's court, the will of Catherine Schrader of Kingston has been admitted to probate. Letters testamentary were issued to Andrew N. Schrader and Mary Schrader. Value of estate, $5,000 real; $5,000 personal. Principal beneficiaries are two sons and two daughters with bequests of $5 each to three grandsons. Walter J. Miller, attorney for petitioners.

Cohen Brothers' New Offices.
Cohen Brothers, real estate dealers, have taken a suite of offices temporarily in the Kingston Opera House office building, Fair street, having moved from 45 Main street. Their former offices are to be occupied by the Kingston Trust Company during reconstruction of their banking house corner Main and Fair streets, for which reconstruction plans and specifications are being made.

Frial of Ludwig Lee.
New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Counsel for Ludwig Lee, on trial for the murder last July of Mrs. Alfred Bennett, said today that he would call a pathologist to testify as to the defendant's mental condition. The trial entered its fourth day with not seven jurors in the box and a split panel of 150 takersmen ready to be called.

The axle on the rear tank of the locomotive hauling Train No. 8 on the West Shore Railroad broke about 11:45 o'clock this morning, causing the entire train, consisting of an engine and six cars, to become derailed. Fortunately none of the derailed cars turned over and no one was injured. Another train was made up here and left Kingston forty-five minutes late for New York city.

The derailment occurred just east of the Flatbush avenue crossing, near St. Mary's Cemetery. The train was made up of the locomotive, a baggage car, mail car, three passenger coaches and a parlor car.

The train was approaching the Flatbush avenue crossing when the engine axle snapped and the train had traveled its own length when brought to a stop just west of the crossing. The entire train was derailed, but when brought to a sudden stop the baggage car and the mail car re-railled themselves, leaving the three coaches and the parlor car off the tracks and the rear tank wheel of the engine on the ground.

At the point where the derailment occurred there was a third line of track which was used the remainder of the day until the south bound tracks could be repaired.

The local wrecker was sent to the scene and cleaned up the wreckage as fast as possible. In the meantime another train was made up in the West Shore yard here and the passengers in the derailed train were placed aboard and went on to New York city with a delay of only forty-five minutes.

Negro Stabber Pleaded Guilty

Otho Gray Who Used Jackknife on James Hill, Is Fined $25 in Police Court—Kiernan Held for Grand Jury—Other Police Court Cases.

Otho Gray, 29 years old, a negro, who stabbed James Hill, another negro, with a jackknife on Sunday, this morning entered a plea of guilty to assault in the third degree when arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in police court and was fined $25. Hill, who received a two inch cut on the head and a rib in the left breast above the heart, had his wounds treated at the Kingston City Hospital and then returned home. The stabbing occurred on the Staples brickyard on North street.

Kiernan Held.

James Keirnan, 16 years old, waived examination in police court on Tuesday and was held to await the action of the grand jury. Kiernan together with Edward Arnold and Louis Hicks, both 16 years old, are accused of helping themselves to the automobile of Edwin Gregory that was parked on Spring street. According to the police the boys had taken the car to go to New York city seeking a job. The car was later found abandoned on the Postertown road near Newburgh. Arnold and Hicks were arraigned several days ago at which time they waived examination and were held for the action of the grand jury.

Arrested for Intoxication.

John Lee, who said he lived in Rhinecliff, was picked up by the police Tuesday night on the Strand, charged with public intoxication. He had two bottles of alleged whiskey with him at the time. He pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to ten days in jail, but the serving of the jail sentence was suspended provided he return to Rhinecliff.

Joseph Tomasin, who said he was employed by the New York Central at Barrytown, was also arrested for public intoxication on lower Haverbrouck avenue Tuesday evening. He also pleaded guilty and was given a suspended jail sentence of ten days. He informed Judge Shufeldt that he had had a few drinks and they knocked him down. "It was good stuff, though," he added.

Stinson's Plane Lands Safely

Sherborn, Mass., Oct. 19 (AP)—Eddie Stinson's big, yellow, cabined monoplane rested easily in a hay field on the Richards farm here today where it made a perfect landing last night when the Detroit airplane manufacturer was forced down by "low ceiling" in a raw "northeaster" that for hours led to grave apprehension that the plane and its six passengers might have met serious mishap.

Stinson, with his wife, Mrs. Raven E. Hartekow, Gen. Philip Ashby and J. J. Koehler, two of the mechanics, were uninjured.

The party, after accepting the hospitality of George Mann, whose farm adjoins the Richards property, were driven to Framingham where they took a train to Boston.

It was Stinson's second setback of the day, and coincidentally both came on the last lap of an 18,000 mile tour undertaken to promote interest in airports. Stinson made his landing about 6:30 in the evening, but the apparent failure of any of the party to notify friends or airport authorities in Boston caused an extensive search to be started and resulted in many anxious moments until the big ship was finally located in this isolated place early today.

Marconi Never Stops Working

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—Although more than a quarter of a century has passed since he startled the world with his invention of wireless telegraphy, William Marconi still works with all the vigor and enthusiasm of his younger days to improve methods of radio communication.

"Only the feeble minded or the prematurely old stop and abandon their life's interest for the sake of idleness," Marconi said here today. "I have laboratories wherever I go, and wherever I go I work."

"I have work shops in Italy, in England, and now here the Radio Corporation of America has put at my disposal its plants for any experiments I may want to make. In addition when I require special concentration, removed from the calls that are always made upon me on land, I have my yacht, the Elettra, which is completely equipped with apparatus for my researches."

Both Cars Damaged.

A Nash car, license number 3X5381, and an Oldsmobile, license number 9H5294, collided at the corner of Main and Fair streets about 10 o'clock this morning. Both cars received damaged bumpers.

Auxiliary Card Party.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Weiner Hose Co., No. 6, will hold a card party at the Central Fire Station on Wednesday evening, October 26, at 8 o'clock.

Rescue 4 from Smashed Barge

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—The rescue of four men from a sea whipped high by a howling northeaster gale that had smashed their barge to pieces off Ocean City, Md., was described today in a wireless dispatch to the Associated Press from the coast guard cutter Gresham.

Helplessly adrift for thirteen hours the barge Old Dominion of the Neptune Line foundered last night, forcing its crew to leap overboard and fight against the surf until they were picked up by a boat from the Gresham.

The barge went down after the Gresham had stood by for hours, braving a heavy sea and high winds, in a vain effort to reach the craft with a line. The barge was pounded to pieces on Fenwick Shoals.

The old Dominion broke loose from the tug Jupiter yesterday morning and drifted southward 49 miles before it foundered.

Ambulance Calls Tuesday.

Tuesday the city ambulance removed Elizabeth Van Tassel from 95 Green street to the Kingston City Hospital, and Mrs. Abram DeForest from 50 Staples street to the Kingston City Hospital.

Residents Forced To Use Boats

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—With householders in some of the outlying districts taking to boats for transportation along their flooded streets, New York dropped under its third consecutive day of excessive rain fall.

Almost five inches of rain fell yesterday and the day before, and this morning the weather bureau predicted continued rain for today and tonight.

The storm was felt most by residents in the outskirts where sewers were unable to handle the water and homes took on the appearance of island lighthouses.

Poughkeepsie at the Broadway.

News From the World on Wheels

The sales total of the Oakland Motor Car Company during September was 22,979 Oakland and Pontiac Sixes, a gain of 37 per cent over the corresponding month of 1926, it is announced. This percentage of gain represents an increase of 5,945 units over September, 1926, when the company sold 16,134 cars. The aggregate of Oakland and Pontiac Six sales during the first nine months of this year was 156,258 as compared with the corresponding months of 1926 when 111,821 units were sold. The gain of 44,437 sales during this period is an increase of 39.7 per cent.

The Studebaker Commander has again—for the fifth time within thirty-six days—made a conquest of time and space. This time a fully equipped stock Studebaker Commander Sport Roadster skidded around the boards of the Atlantic City Speedway to hang up six new records—first and foremost of which was the record of 1,814.96 miles in 24 hours—1,440 minutes—at an average speed of 75.623 miles per hour. In so doing the Commander covered 142 more miles during the 24 hour period than did the car which previously held the record. The second record was for 1,000 miles—which the Commander clicked off in 796 minutes, 7.4 seconds at an average speed of 75.365 miles per hour to exceed by 5.055 miles per hour the average maintained in the old record.

For the third consecutive month the retail sales of Oldsmobiles have broken previous records, both in domestic and export fields. The record for September showed a 14 per cent increase over that of the same month in 1926 and a gain of 21 per cent over September, 1925. This September gain follows substantial increases in August and July, both months recording larger sales than any previous August and July in the 39 years' history of the company.

Still another triumph has been added to the list of record feats accomplished by Chrysler cars this year in overseas countries, according to cabled advices received from South Africa by the Chrysler Corporation in Detroit. These cables bring word that G. S. Bouwer's all-ready famous Chrysler "70" touring car, which has attained wide fame in the last eighteen months by a series of spectacular achievements in the Union of South Africa, has set up another new speed mark for the difficult route between Cape Town and Johannesburg, covering the 951 miles in 22 hours and 51 minutes. Unfilled orders of the Franklin Automobile Company of Syracuse are three weeks behind fulfillment, as a result of new volume of sales obtained since announcement of the new Airman series of air-cooled cars, according to officials of the company. Factory production has been speeded up to capacity, with many departments operating on a full six-day week schedule with overtime.

Reduction in price of $255 on both seven-passenger closed models on the 135-inch Willys-Knight Great Six chassis is announced by John N. Willys, president of Willys-Overland, Inc. The Willys-Knight Great Six seven-passenger sedan and the limousine formerly listing at $2,850 and $2,950 respectively are now priced at $2,595 and $2,695 respectively, f. o. b. Toledo.

Many items of equipment which formerly were provided only as accessories have been made standard on the new Packard Eight. All models of the Eight now have cowl bands and cowl lights. - 1 When you trade-in your present car for a new car, you are making a purchase, not a sale. You are simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of the new car.
- 2 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value; i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
- 3 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
- 4 The largest allowance is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
- 5 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
- 6 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

After fair afternoon reception Tuesday the evening was full of sports, snarls, snickers and rattles which gradually disappeared after 10:30 until at 9, after several static noises evidently caused by lightning, almost anything could be heard in. Especially good was the sacred concert at KDKA and reception of the Stromberg-Carlson program from the same station. The smoked beef program from WGY was good and the WPG opera singers came in strong. Of DX stations WGN was the best and this best was very good indeed. Other western stations were weak. The "whispering baritone" on the WJZ late program was welcomed back after two years of silence.

Testimony in Oil Conspiracy Trial

Taking of Testimony Begun in the Criminal Conspiracy Trial of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert E. Fall.

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP).—Taking of testimony was begun today in the criminal conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert E. Fall, with a promise by counsel for Sinclair that there would be no evidence to show the wealthy oil operator had any connection with the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., of Canada, through whom Fall is accused of having received a large batch of liberty bonds after the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to Sinclair.

Moreover, the two women and ten men hearing the case were told that Sinclair never had a bond that this company had and that he never passed a bond the company possessed, as the government contends in the indictment charging conspiracy in the lease of the reserve.

"It will be made clear Sinclair never had anything to do with a bond of the description given by the government," declared Martin W. Littleton of New York, "and that he never passed a bond to Fall or anyone in behalf of Fall."

Littleton also disputed the government theory that the $25,000 of Liberty bonds Sinclair gave Fall after the latter retired as interior secretary after the lease of Teapot Dome were of the same kind that passed through the Continental trading company and of which $200,500 came finally into possession of M. T. Everhart, Fall's son-in-law, and some of which went to Fall.

The attorney said the $25,000 payment was made to Fall when he was employed by Sinclair to go to Europe in connection with oil concessions the oil operator was seeking in Russia; that there was nothing secret about that transaction, the bonds being sent to a bank at El Paso for Fall, and that the whole transaction was "entirely legitimate."

Defense counsel likewise promised that the testimony would show that it was not until the latter part of the celebrated Christmas, 1921, visit of Sinclair to Fall at Three Rivers, New Mexico, that the oil operator brought up the question of leasing Teapot Dome. Fall's reply, as given by Littleton, was that geologists then were investigating drainage in the reserve and he would make no determination until that inquiry was completed.

Marine Band Concert Tonight

It is no exaggeration to say that perhaps no musical organization in America has done as much good for the insularization among the public of good musical appreciation as has the U. S. Marine Band, which is giving one of its celebrated concerts here this afternoon and another at 8:30 this evening, under the auspices of the Rotary Club.

The field of service of The United States Marine Band is growing year by year. Captain Taylor Branson, its director, gives it as his opinion that the musical appreciation of the American public has vastly improved within the last few years. "They have come to know and appreciate a higher class of music," then, he declares, "Jazz itself is showing constant improvement. The loud, blatant stuff is passing, and jazz is becoming more musical."

As present constituted, The United States Marine Band is made up of 78 accomplished musicians, some of whom are composers as well. Among them are any number of star performers.

Record Breaking Flood Warnings

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP).—The weather bureau today issued warnings of a record breaking flood in this section with the rivers reaching 17 foot stage by night; and if heavy rains occur they will go to 20 feet. The record is 18.3 feet. Much damage has been done by torrents washing out side hill streets as the result of a rainfall of 3.56 inches since Monday. Police and volunteers rescued families today from houses in the lowlands, that were surrounded by the rapidly rising flood. At Castle Creek, Vestal and Kirkwood, state highways are inundated and portions of the villages are under water.

Harvest Silage Corn When Ears Are Mature

When corn is to be harvested for silage, it should be cut when the ears are mature but the leaves and stalks are still green. Corn cut and bound to be fed as dry forage should be cut at the same time. It should be allowed to cure in shocks until dry and then hauled in and piled. By this method the ears are mature and well filled and all of the forage value of the stalks is saved.

Corn should not be shucked out of the field until it has dried for several weeks, after it has quit growing. Otherwise the corn will be hard to shuck, will be apt to heat and mold and make poor feed. In shucking from the field it is a good practice to have a box in which to throw the better ears. These can be specially dried out and sorted for seed supply if light selection has not been practiced, or if there is a market for seed corn. As the corn is shucked out it should be hauled to a crib that is well ventilated, and if possible protected against rats and mice.—Extension Bulletin 227-A, Colorado Agricultural College.

Rye and Wheat Are Good as Spring Soiling Crop

For a spring soiling crop, fall-sown rye and wheat are excellent and are especially adaptable in the North. These can be followed with either barley or oats for an early summer soiling crop in the North. Sudan grass is, also, an excellent soiling crop for this season, and in the South sorghums and Japanese cane in particular are probably the best. Sorghums may be cut at two to three feet, but much better yields are realized if they are allowed to head.

The big need for a soiling crop is in midsummer, however, when pastures are dry. For a short season crop at this time, corn is the leader in the corn belt. It is palatable, yields heavily, and remains in good condition over a long period of time.

Everybody Going To Band Concert

Apparently almost everybody is going to the Marine Band concert either this afternoon or tonight, as cash returns from the sale of tickets made at noon today totaled $1,367. This included a very large proportion of students' tickets which were sold at 25 cents each and, therefore, indicated advance sale to more than 2,000 persons. The Rotary Musical Dollar Day included cut rates for children in the afternoon. At night the full price will be charged. In Poughkeepsie a few days ago, the lowest price for tickets was $2.50. It is only in Kingston that the Marine

Band appears as a Dollar Day bargain and this is made possible by the Rotary Club trying again to do something to benefit the public rather than to make money.

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAM DISBANDED

The unauthorized football team of St. Stephen's College, Annandale, will not meet Eastern College eleven Saturday as scheduled. After a vote taken at the college recently it was decided to discontinue the grid sport for the remainder of the season. Games with Hoesic and MacKenzie School will also have to remain unplayed. The only reason in time for the performance, which was given for the dropping of football at St. Stephen's was that it conflicted with three sociology visits planned calling by the college. Injuries of considerable seriousness were received during the college's short period of grid performances. The latest was that of Bob Gamble, injured while playing here against Kingston High School last Saturday, which resulted in water on the brain. He was kept in the infirmary until today for treatment.

Mendelssohn Club Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the Mendelssohn Club was held Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the Elks Club and the following officers were unanimously elected for the coming year: President, Arthur C. Kennedy; vice president, Conrad J. Helmsman; secretary, Lancelotti; treasurer, LeRoy F. Port; librarian, Willis Ryder.

The retiring officers presented their reports of the work accomplished during the past year and plans for the coming year were discussed.

During the past year the Mendelssohn Club gave two complimentary concerts, sponsored the big concert of the Hudson Valley Glee Clubs, took part in the concert of 2,500 male voices given by the Associated Glee Clubs at the sesquicentennial at Philadelphia, gave a private concert at Lake Minnawaska and sang at the Flag Day and Mothers' Day exercises held by the Elks, besides entertaining their wives and friends at several social functions.

During the year past, individual members of the Mendelssohn Club undertook to take part in several public affairs, but the club as an organization has never accepted any invitations to take part in any public program besides its own and the two annual appearances for the Elks. This attitude has been taken in justice to all concerned, because of the difficulty that might be encountered in getting out a well balanced chorus on occasions other than those regularly scheduled.

The club gave a vote of thanks for the fine support given during the past year by the people of Kingston and vicinity.

Voting Machine Demonstrations

This evening at 8 o'clock the first of two public demonstrations of the new voting machines will be held at the coming election will be held at the supervisor's rooms in the court house under the direction of the board of elections. The second demonstration will be held at the same time and place Thursday evening and it is hoped that all voters who are not familiar with the operation of the machines will present themselves at one of the meetings.

Roy Gustavson, a representative of the voting machine company, will be present to instruct and answer any questions which may be put in regard to the operation of the machines.

Inspectors of election who desire additional instruction may present themselves. Other inspectors who have not as yet received their certificates may qualify and be certified at these meetings.

The public is invited to both of these meetings as well as party workers and candidates of all political parties.

Reception for Legion Delegates

Kingston Post of the American Legion and Auxiliary will hold a reception tonight in the Memorial Building in honor of the returning delegates from the Paris convention. These delegates are Mrs. Stanley J. Matthews, state vice president; Mrs. Edwin A. Ashby, third district chairman, both of the auxiliary; Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., E. B. Carey and DeLancey DeGraaf.

The ladies arrived in Kingston some days ago and the men will arrive tonight on the West Shore train arriving at Kingston at 7:15 o'clock.

All members of the Legion and Auxiliary are invited to meet at the Memorial Building not later than 7 o'clock tonight. If weather permits, a Legion parade will be held, led by the Drum Corps and Boy Scout troop. If the rain prevents any formal parade, there will be an informal reception at the station as the boys alight from the train, followed by another reception at the Memorial Building. Refreshments will be served and everyone is assured a good time.

Noted Engineer Electrocutured

Bolton, N. Y., Oct. 19 (P).—Theodore C. Davis of Bridgeton, N. J., engineer in charge of building the Tongue mountain highway at Hague, was electrocuted today when he stepped on a high tension wire.

Walking along a road near this village, with Dr. R. L. Kenyon of Bolton and Luke Van Valkenburgh, a state engineer, Davis noticed a light in the woods near the highway. As he was investigating he made contact with the wire, which had been broken by the wind that swept the Lake George section last night. The body was taken to Glens Falls for shipment to Bridgeton.

CARRINGTON SEEKS PROOF OF BROTHER'S MARRIAGE

New York, Oct. 19 (P).—Conclusive proof of the reported marriage of his divorced wife to Campbell Carrington, his brother, was sought today by Colonel Edward C. Carrington, lawyer and financier, in order that he might "be absolved from any further legal or moral obligations to the lady."

After checking an announcement of the marriage made last Friday by George I. Schein, a Chicago lawyer, Colonel Carrington said that his private detectives had proved details of the announcement to be without foundation.

Two may live as cheaply as one, but not nearly as quietly.

Compare it with $1200 to $1400 Cars

THERE are a hundred points of merit in which Chandler's new Special Six Sedan equals, or exceeds, other cars $200 to $400 higher in price!

It's an arrestingly beautiful car—styled as if the nation's best artists and sculptors worked out the harmony of every line and curve, and the richness of coloring.

It's a thoroughly modern car—with a chassis that lubricates itself from end to end the moment you press a plunger—with an oil-filter, air-cleaner, 4-wheel brakes, self-adjusting noiseless spring shackles—so forth and so forth!

And with its famous high-compression Pikes Peak motor, it certainly has the power—loads and loads of power. It's off like a shot as you step on the gas—and it glides right up the tallest hills as if it could easily climb to the moon!

And this, mind you, is only one of two dozen new Chandler models. See also the new Big Six Metropolitan Sedan, $1495—and the magnificent new Royal Eight Sedan, $1995, prices f.o.b. factory.

Activities at Normal School

Every one is busy at the Normal for at present the year very organization is active and the members and students are all busy with the work.

The Art Club is planning a day week-end trip to Lake Umbagog. The members are to leave Friday at 10 o'clock and will return on Sunday. This will give them an opportunity for the study of the lake, fishing, boating and making trails are some of the anticipated pastimes.

The first of the pastime will soon be completed. This is a new magazine and students are co-operating to make the publication worth while. The subscriptions are mounting and it is expected that the one hundred mark will be reached.

The interest in art work at the Normal is so great that it has been decided to organize an Art and Crafts Club. Membership is open to all girls who have earned a good mark in art work.

This is the "rush" time for the seniors. Monday night November and Ago held a theatre party at the Broadway Theatre for the freshmen, who they are "rushing". After the movies they had lunch at the Brass Kettle Inn.

Newman Club had an exciting time Monday when they initiated their new members. Just what the girls went through cannot be disclosed but the "victims" thoroughly enjoyed the "ritual". Following the initiation the chaplain, Father Humphrey, gave a brief and interesting talk.

At a meeting of the Freshmen Class, held Tuesday, Dorothy Hawkins and Betty Elton were elected to represent the class on the Student Council.

Maine Retains Direct Primary

Reject Referendum Seeking Return to the Caucus and Convention System—Citizens Appeared Little Interested.

Portland, Me., Oct. 19 (AP).—Maine has chosen to retain the direct primary. By a sweeping vote of nearly two to one the state in a special election yesterday rejected a referendum seeking a return to the caucus and convention system of nominating candidates for public office.

Although an active campaign had been carried on for weeks to bring about a repeal of the primary law, the election brought only approximately 90,000 voters. The normal vote of the state is in the neighborhood of 200,000. Newspapers in several Maine cities reported that last night they received few if any calls inquiring as to the result of the poll. The citizens at large appeared little interested in the issue.

The cities, regarded as the mainstay of the repeal forces, for the most part voted to retain the primary. Only three, Waterville, Eastport and Rockland, gave small "yes" majorities. All of the 16 counties except Knox declared for the primary. With 49 small points missing out of the 633 election precincts in the state, the vote stood:

Against, 35,357.

In a statement issued immediately after the result was announced, Governor Ralph O. Brewster, who, with former Governor Percival P. Baxter, led the fight to retain the existing law, called upon "all good citizens to work together to develop a public sentiment that will sanction and require the observance of the laws as to the nomination practices and expenditures, interest of fair play among candidates, and to inculcate respect for law."

Boatman Assaulted at Vau-Kill.

Captain Nelson of the yacht Kaikah, owned by Dr. E. H. Jones, wealthy New York resident with a farm in Jewett, was assaulted while trying to board the yacht at a Catekill dock Sunday night. It is thought the assailant meant to rob the captain but a blow on the head which made a scalp wound failed to stun the boatman. His cries for help scared the assailant who departed without leaving any clues for the police to trace him.

Cook Resented Complaints.

John Otto, 27, of Albany, a cook for the Troy Paving Company, which is building the new Catskill-Cairo road, was ordered held in $200 bail for the action of the grand jury, by Justice Morrison of Catskill Monday.

It is alleged that Otto threatened workers of the construction company with a gun after they had complained of the food served by him.

Standing by Senator Norris

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP).—The newly formed group of non-organization Republicans from the west is standing by Senator Norris of Nebraska, as the presidential nominee and while ready to listen to the cause of Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, wants more information from him as to his views on western problems.

Senator Nye, of North Dakota, one of the five senators from the Norris cluster, made this clear in a speech here last night before the Washington Chamber of Commerce in which he asked Mr. Lowden to clarify his position regarding the interests of the west.

The North Dakota senator said he did not wish to embarrass the candidacy of Mr. Lowden nor to eliminate him from its considerations but he thought it possible that Lowden might see fit to clarify his position. While the former governor of Illinois has advocated the McNary-Hauser bill, Senator Nye declared that more enactment of this measure is not going to save agriculture.

Boatman Assaulted at Vau-Kill.

Captain Nelson of the yacht Kaikah, owned by Dr. E. H. Jones, wealthy New York resident with a farm in Jewett, was assaulted while trying to board the yacht at a Catekill dock Sunday night. It is thought the assailant meant to rob the captain but a blow on the head which made a scalp wound failed to stun the boatman. His cries for help scared the assailant who departed without leaving any clues for the police to trace him.

Cook Resented Complaints.

John Otto, 27, of Albany, a cook for the Troy Paving Company, which is building the new Catskill-Cairo road, was ordered held in $200 bail for the action of the grand jury, by Justice Morrison of Catskill Monday.

It is alleged that Otto threatened workers of the construction company with a gun after they had complained of the food served by him.

Standing by Senator Norris

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP).—The newly formed group of non-organization Republicans from the west is standing by Senator Norris of Nebraska, as the presidential nominee and while ready to listen to the cause of Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, wants more information from him as to his views on western problems.

Senator Nye, of North Dakota, one of the five senators from the Norris cluster, made this clear in a speech here last night before the Washington Chamber of Commerce in which he asked Mr. Lowden to clarify his position regarding the interests of the west.

The North Dakota senator said he did not wish to embarrass the candidacy of Mr. Lowden nor to eliminate him from its considerations but he thought it possible that Lowden might see fit to clarify his position. While the former governor of Illinois has advocated the McNary-Hauser bill, Senator Nye declared that more enactment of this measure is not going to save agriculture.

Mrs. Brigham Loses Suit for Auto Damages

Altaben Accident Resulted in Serious Injury, She Says—Occupants of Auto Say She Ran in Front of Car After Horn Had Been Sounded.

The question of whether Katherine Brigham crossed the road directly in front of the Ford car of Ivan Ford on January 10, 1926, and thereby was guilty of contributory negligence in causing her death, was the subject of a trial in the county court today. The jury was asked to decide in the action for personal injuries brought by Mrs. Brigham against Ford.

This morning the jury rendered a verdict of no cause of action.

According to the story of the plaintiff she was walking along the road to the right of the traveled highway and was struck without warning by the car. She claimed that she had left her home at Allaben in company with Mrs. Mervin and her three children and had proceeded to a point near the Merideth residence when she was struck without warning from the rear and tossed over in the ditch, sustaining a severe cut on her head and injuries to her arm and body which compelled her to cease work for three months.

Immediately after the accident which happened about 4 o'clock she was taken home by young Ford and for three hours she was unconscious. Dr. Balduc attended her. At that time he was in Phoenixia but since he had moved away and she testified she had attempted to locate him but found he had gone west. Later she was attended by Dr. Snyder.

Required Nurse and Doctor. She testified she was keeping a boarding house at the time and Mrs. Mervin worked for her. Following the accident she was compelled to have Mrs. Mervin attend to her during the night and although she has not yet paid Mrs. Mervin she said she had agreed to but had no money to do so.

Socony, just north of Kingston Viaduct, Ashokan Road.

So, she paid Dr. Balduc $52 for his services and $19 for X-ray pictures and had been treated by Dr. Balduc after paying the $52 but he had never rendered a bill to her.

She said she had been walking to the left of the road with Mrs. Mervin before the accident and some right where she crossed over to the police dog were walking. It was after she had been there for a time that she was struck.

On cross-examination by Judge William D. Cunningham, she was asked what she was doing at Allaben at the time and said she was running a boarding house. She denied she was living at Allaben with Frank Calabrese as man and wife. She said she was keeping the house and he boarded there. She formerly lived in Kingston and shortly after she went to Allaben in 1912 Calabrese went there. She does not reside with her husband.

Not Running a "Speak-Easy".
Asked if at the time she had not been engaged in running a "speak-easy," she said she had not. Instructed by the court that she need not answer such questions if the answer might incriminate or degrade her, she refused to answer further questions along that line which were put to attack the credibility of the witness. She said the accident happened on a Sunday afternoon and she was walking up the road in the same direction the car was traveling. She heard no horn and did not know the car was coming until it struck her.

Mrs. Mervin testified that she and Mrs. Brigham were on the left of the road. Shortly before the accident Mrs. Brigham crossed to the right of the road where the children were and she was struck on the right of the road. She was unconscious and had a severe scalp wound and an injury to her arm. It was an old injury which was reopened. On cross-examination she denied that Mrs. Brigham had rushed across the road when they saw the car coming in order to rescue the dog which had run into the road.

Questioned as to a statement which she made to Sergeant Steinmetz, of the B. W. S. police, after the accident, she said she did not remember saying that Mrs. Brigham had started to cross the road after the dog when the car approached and that she attempted to hold on to Mrs. Brigham but was unable to do so, and that when Mrs. Brigham broke away she was struck by the car.

Road Was Icy and Slippery.
There were two women in the car with young Ford. The car was a two-passenger car and although it was icy and slippery, there were no chains on the car. After the accident they picked up Mrs. Brigham and took her home and sent for medical attention. She said Mrs. Brigham was confined to her bed for a long time.

One of the children was sworn. She was walking ahead with the dog which she said, was on the right of the road. She did not know of the accident until Mrs. Brigham was struck down and the dog turned and ran in that direction.

Virgil Brennen, whose occupation is a blacksmith, was one of the witnesses called by the defendant. Mr. Brennen stated that on Monday or Tuesday after the accident he had gone to the place where Calabrese and Mrs. Brigham resided and there found Mrs. Brigham sitting up. He asked her if she had been badly injured and she said not seriously.

In Search of Rum.
Mr. Brennen said he had gone there to get a half pint of rum. He said that Mrs. Mervin was working there and he spoke to her and she apparently was working there at the time. On that visit Mrs.

Brigham was sitting in a chair. He told him how badly she was hurt and she did not notice any bandages on her head or arm. He made many visits there in a period of three months after the accident.

When the witness asked Mrs. Brigham how badly she was hurt, and she replied, he asked her how the accident happened and she told him that she was walking along the road and her police dog had gone out in the road in front of a car and she had gone after it and the car struck her. She said it had been her fault and would not have happened if she had not gone after her dog. She also told the witness that Ford tried to stop and avoid hitting her.

Followed Dog, Say Witnesses.
Virginia Oxenham and her mother, the two occupants of the Ford car, testified that they had noticed the group of people on the road some distance away. Ford had blown his horn and the group, which had been in the middle of the road, separated. The two women and the dog went to the left and the children went to the right. When a short distance away the dog attempted to cross the road and Ford blew his horn to scare the dog. The other woman attempted to hold Mrs. Brigham but she ran across the road and was hit.

Ford's Story.
Ford told the same story as to how the accident happened. He said he was approaching the group from the rear and had sounded his horn. The group separated and the dog ran in front of the car. When he was a very short distance away Mrs. Brigham ran across the road toward the right and he struck her while she was about in the middle of the road. He testified he was traveling about ten miles an hour as he approached the group and he slowed down and applied both brakes when she ran in front of him. His car traveled about two feet after she was struck. He said his car only pushed her over. He assisted her to the car and took her home.

A week later he visited her and she refused to tell him how badly she was injured. She was sitting up at the time.

On cross-examination he denied he had ever agreed to pay the doctor's bill or settle for the damages.

He denied that Frank Calabrese and Mr. Francis had tried to blow the horn on his car after the accident in his presence and that the horn would not blow. He said there had been no such conversation.

Sergeant Steinmetz of the B. W. S. police was called and testified that he had made a report of the accident. He had taken Ford's statement and also one from Mrs. Mervin. She said that Mrs. Brigham had crossed the road in front of the car after the dog and she had tried to hold her back but had failed.

Horn Would Not Blow.
Mr. Francis, sanitary inspector for the city of New York, was called in rebuttal. He said he had tried to blow the horn on the Ford car and it would not work. Ford said that if the horn would not blow, then it must have been broken after the accident for it blew before. The examination was made in the presence of Calabrese.

Francis said he had gone to the house about 4:15 after the accident and there saw Mrs. Brigham in bed. He went in when the doctor went to attend her. He knew her and Frank Calabrese as well as Mrs. Mervin. His duty as sanitary inspector called him there and he had transacted business with all of the parties in regard to unsanitary conditions in the back yard. He said he never went there on personal business or to get whiskey.

Mrs. Ford Offered to Pay.
Mrs. Ford was recalled and testified that on the visit of Ford to her home a week after he had asked

THE WAIST-LINE.

New York.—A suggestion of a waist-line, just the most subtle suggestion of the waist at this point, is one of the things O'Rosson is practicing in his suits, which are proving such a delight to the chic Parisienne. O'Rosson favors manish materials and frowns down anything that detracts from the severity of suits, yet he makes a graceful tribute to women by indenting the waist-line.

At all seasons, but in the spring most of all, down the well-dressed French woman relish a suit. Just now, with cloth dresses of two-piece genre being so much worn, the suit stands an ever greater chance of success, since the new suits are more or less interchangeable with two-piece sports dresses.

They are worn with excellent effect under a fur coat, a fur-lined coat or a fur-trimmed one, as well as a coat minus fur. The last-named type of coat includes some of the stunning trend ensembles that have, because of their good looks, been getting themselves talked about.

One should by all means have a cloth ensemble. The autumn bride will do well to start on her journey in tweeds or in any combination in which wool is at least a part.

Bootmakers are again offering models in leathers to match the costume. Navy blue kid shoes accompany a navy suit, let us say, although one cannot quarrel with black. Brown, in one of its manifold shades, is always worn with a brown dress.

Scarfs That Can Be Made at Home

Neckpieces Easy to Stitch;
Should Have Shoulder
Pompon to Match.

There is a charm and coquetry about these dainty neckpieces which accompany a woman's costume that rejoice in the beauty of the styles now drifting over from Paris.

That among lovelies for the season of 1927 are new ideas and designs of scarfs and shawls, for fashion decrees that every costume must have its accompanying scarf or shawl.

All summer the printed and hand-painted scarf has floated from feminine shoulders, and Spanish shawls, deeply fringed and richly embroidered, have swathed American figures. These will continue in use, but dictators of the mode, ever alert for something new with which to adorn autumn costumes, have introduced the braided-trimmed scarf and the shoulder pompon to match it, or its trimmings in color.

Handsome and effective as this vogue is, no woman need be without these beautiful accessories to her costume. The very best scarf with a pompon to match her own scarf for a fraction of what they would cost her in the shops.

Take the new sports scarf, for instance. It is merely a strip of wool material, about six inches in width, intended to loop over one side of the neck. Both ends are finished with braid of one-half an inch or more in width, but the end which hangs in front is adorned with oddly-placed bits of braid, in lengths of several inches, with squares and circles of different colored fancy braids, put on with bold or invisible stitches, or edged with very narrow braid of any desired color. Small ends of fancy braids—some of which come in round designs—can be cut apart for these ornaments, and the whole work may be quickly and cheaply accomplished. The decorator has only to remember that scarfs of this nature demand short lengths, squares and circles of braid, not fancy designs in other shapes. The pompon which matches the chief decorative color in the scarf is merely a big rosette of silk floss. To be quite up-to-date one must have the pompon match the handbag, or its ornament in color. If the handbag has its owner's initials wrought in red and green on one side, then either green or red is duplicated in the scarf braids and two pompons are worn together—one green and the other red. It is also smart to have stockings match the scarf, bag and at least one pompon, if the ground color is in any beige tint, or some hue adapted to the gown worn.

The closing days of this season's vacation time are likely to see girls stitching silver and gold and many colored braids in combination upon three-yard lengths of shining crepe, or adding fringes to shorter lengths of these decorative and useful shawls and neck draperies for the costumes of autumn and winter.

Materials in vogue for wider scarfs, of about 15 or 16 inches width and three yards in length, including fringe, are silk crepe, thin soft silk and satin. When purchasing material remember that one length of goods will make two scarfs, with a piece left over with which to line the bag.

FOR A LIGHT MEAL

Fish of various kinds, shell fish that are reasonable, are always enjoyed and are particularly appetizing when one wants a light meal.

Jellied Fish.—Soak one package of gelatin in cold water to cover, then add enough hot water to make of all a cupful. Have ready four cupfuls of flaked fish, previously cooked. Season highly with salt, pepper and lemon juice or tarragon vinegar. Add the hot gelatin to the fish and stir until it begins to thicken. Pack into a crockery mold and set away to harden.

Broiled Smoked Salmon.—Rub the flesh side of a smoked salmon with butter and broil before the fire. Serve with lemon quarters and parsley on a hot platter.

Deviled Clams.—Fry a chopped onion in two tablespoonsful of butter until brown. Add two dozen clams, chopped fine, or a can of minced clams and one cupful of tomatoes. Season to taste with salt and pepper, one teaspoonful each of chopped parsley and Worcestershire sauce. When thoroughly hot add two well-beaten eggs, stir until smooth and take from the fire. Fill clam shells or ramekins with the mixture. Cover with crumbs and brown in the oven.

Curried Clams.—Fry a chopped onion until brown in one tablespoonful of olive oil. Add a tablespoonful of curry powder and a tablespoonful of flour. Add two cupfuls of clams with their liquor and cook five minutes.

Tuna Fish Salad.—Take a small can of tuna, flake it and add two cupfuls of finely diced celery, a sour pickle finely chopped and boiled dressing to moisten. Serve on lettuce.

Codfish a la Mode.—Flake one cupful of codfish very fine, soak in cold water. Mix two cupfuls of mashed potatoes with two cupfuls of top milk or thin cream, and two well-beaten eggs. Season to taste, mix well and heap into a well-greased baking dish. Bake twenty-five minutes. If it does not brown, brush the top with melted butter the last five minutes of cooking.

ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions

Looking Ahead Toward a Southern Wardrobe and Summing Up the Most Interesting Things of the Moment

New York.—Every so often we find them are of the long willow or are threatened with—or promised—fitted ostrich.

The impracticability of the velvet coat is at once evident, but since when did practicality rank higher than style? If women want velvet—and as some one has said, every woman is beautiful in velvet—velvet they will have, in spite of the fact that it does not stand the rough usage that usually falls to the lot of the winter coat.

To hark back to the autumn fashion at Luncheon, it is amusing to note that topping both velvet suits and coats, which were the costume note of the occasion, were felt hats. The Parisienne simply refuses to renounce her felt hat.

The use of beige satin and such a shade as the one called natural for evening seems a bit unusual. Because of this, one feels that it should be reported, since the majority of smart audiences, to say nothing of couture collections, play up these tones and this fabric. Although, in all candor, moire must be regarded as an also ran, it is listed for formal wear and appears to some extent where fashionables foregather.

Beige Satin for Evening.

But do not visualize the present-day ostrich box as the inflexible, sausage-like affair of another generation. Some of the new boxes imitate the brush of a fox, and most taffeta, moire provides variety for the woman who has tired of these. She is and is weaved even of chiffon. This latter is a perpetual material, especially in the atelier of Chanel. She continues to create chiffon frocks—often red ones—which have the grace to appear different, thanks to her ingenuity.

The predominance of grape, wine, and raisin shades is another thing on which to ponder. Although blue is the season's popular color, one cannot fail to notice how many women are favoring mauve, grape, and mulberry, especially in tweeds and such materials as go to make a smart ensemble.

The continued favor accorded sweaters and jumpers made of jersey or knit goods rather than silk is another important item for the woman who is planning a sports or travel costume to remember. The all-wool costume is rated high, and is hardly an unseasonable suggestion even though steam-heated houses make the vogue of wool a doubtful blessing. Velvets, especially rayon velvets, add no discomfort, even for dancing, and the rayon velvet gown goes to many a smart party these nights.

Angora Costumes Register.

Before dismissing the subject of wool sports clothes, it must be recorded that angora costumes are among the very smartest. The entrance of corduroy for sports wear is another thing to consider. It was most effectively introduced in yellow at Biarritz.

With the winter scarcely upon us it seems a bit far-sighted to give a thought to southern—or, as the term goes, Palm Beach—fashions, yet those who have southern homes migrate early and it takes time to assemble a wardrobe. For those, then, let it be known that there is considerable agitation over printed linens and even over certain cottons. Eider and allover designs, especially the smaller varieties, are considered as having a chance for success.

French Navy blue and white handkerchiefs were prominent at French resorts last season, and yellow and blue, it will be recalled, were the predominating colors.

Red Cross Appeals For Flood Victims

Appeal for clothing to meet pressing needs in Mississippi Valley. Among Grant Army of Flood Victims.

An urgent appeal for clothing, to meet the pressing winter needs of more than half a million flood sufferers in the Mississippi Valley, has been issued by the local chapter of the American Red Cross at the direction of national headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Not less than 75 carloads of warm winter garments are needed at once, according to the communication from Washington, which is based on a personal survey of the situation by Chairman James L. Fieser and Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, chairman of the President's special red cross committee.

Throughout the vast flood area, the organization still has under its care a veritable army of homeless and destitute persons, the suffering will be intense unless the needs are speedily met, they say.

Not only among those who actually lost their homes, together with all clothing and other possessions, but well among a large percentage of the general population, whose earning capacity has been crippled by conditions in the valley, the Red Cross will have to continue to act as "Greatest Mother" until conditions approximating the normal have been restored. Latest reports are to the effect that most of the 27,000 flood sufferers who have received aid from the organization, still have to be supplied with winter clothing by the Red Cross.

Adding to the urgency of the situation is the fact that without sufficient supplies of warm garments, the danger from those diseases caused or augmented by exposure will be greatly increased.

Many of the flood sufferers are still in quarters of a temporary nature, and will in fact need a more abundant wardrobe than they would under normal conditions.

Listed among the types of clothing needed are:

Women: Coats, dresses, underwear and stockings.

Children: Coats, underwear, dresses, boys' suits and shirts, socks, and sweaters of all sizes, gaiters and baby clothes.

Men: Coats, suits, shirts, underwear and socks.

The appeal stresses the fact that donated clothing should be suitable to the conditions of those in need and that it should be clean and reasonably good condition. Mention is made in the letter from Washington that no furs, shoes or hats are required.

Clothing should be sent to the Red Cross Headquarters, Court House, Kingston, N. Y., E. E. Oughel, treasurer.

This is an urgent appeal. The response must be quick, adequate.

Chamberlin May Make Trip Again

Noted Flier Says Next Time He Flies Over Atlantic it Will Be in An Amphibian Plane, Capable of Carrying 20 Passengers.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19 (AP)—Clarence D. Chamberlin is planning to fly across the Atlantic ocean again.

But the next time he makes such flight he wants to "do it right" and it will be in an amphibian airplane capable of carrying 20 passengers.

Such a plane, he said, is being designed by Bellanca, who built the Columbia, in which Chamberlin flew to Germany.

The noted transatlantic flier revealed his plans last night at a dinner given by the Engineers' Club of Philadelphia, the Aero Club of Philadelphia and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for the Promotion of Aviation.

"I want the plane equipped with good radio and perfect instruments. Such a plane should carry at least four men and two expert pilots. Among the crew should be an expert operator who can pick up signals from passing boats and radio beacons. This is the type of plane that Mr. Bellanca is now working on."

"It will be able to make a perfect landing on water, but also will be equipped with landing gear in case it is necessary to make a forced landing en route. My idea of such a plane is one that will carry about 10 passengers on an ordinary 500-mile trip or 20 passengers in a two-day transatlantic flight."

"Such a trip could easily be made in 20 passengers. One stop could be made at Newfoundland and the second at the Azores. For a non-stop flight such a plane could carry no one but the crew. There is a great danger in transatlantic flights if the proper precautions are taken. I believe that I will be the first to fly this plane when it is completed."

Fire Board Wins McCullough Suit

William McCullough's Suit Against Fire Commissioners Dismissed After Being Partly Tried—Miss Grace Van B. Roberts Sues Nathaniel B. Gross.

An action brought by William McCullough of Kingston against Louis H. Kolts and others, members of the board of fire commissioners, was dismissed without costs this morning in the Supreme court after a juror had been withdrawn and a mistrial taken.

The action grew out of the contract to erect an addition to the Central fire station on East O'Reilly street. The contention of the plaintiff was that under the contract and specifications he had complied with the requirements in installing calamine door and window frames and that the action of the fire commissioners in requiring him to install metal frames in their stead was extra work and for which he demanded $824.60.

Contenting that he complied with the requirements of the contract in installing calamine with wood core, he asked for additional money when he was required by the fire commissioners to install metal instead. Henry Klein appeared for the plaintiff and Corporation Counsel H. H. Fleming appeared for the fire commissioners.

A jury was taken and the case partly tried when it developed that from testimony of witnesses sworn by plaintiff the material used was not in accordance with the contract and specifications and it was then a juror was withdrawn and the case dismissed without costs.

Sues for Auto Damages.

An action to recover for damage to her car and also for personal injuries brought by Miss Grace Van B. Roberts of Highland against Nathaniel B. Gross of this city was taken up for trial.

Miss Roberts claims that on December 4, 1926, while she was riding west over Pearl street at Washington avenue, her car, in charge of her chauffeur, was struck by the car of Mr. Gross which was traveling north on Washington avenue and that she was injured and her car damaged through the negligence of the operator of the Gross car. Mr. Gross denies that he was operating his car in a negligent manner and contends that the accident was due to the manner in which the Roberts car was being operated. Judge J. M. Fowler and A. C. Connelly appear for Miss Roberts and A. J. Cook appears for the defendant.

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—Renewal of selling pressure against today's stock market resulted in another wide-spread movement which carried prices down 2 to 7 points. The reaction, which took place in the face of a lowering of the rail money rate from 1 to 7/8 per cent, was not associated with any development in the money market, but apparently represented a further correction of a widespread technical position.

Prices opened fairly firm, but the rally was unimpressive, bear traders taking advantage of the uneasiness which had developed as a result of the previous sharp decline, launched a series of selling attacks against some of the popular industrial stocks, eventually unsettling the general list. Allied Chemical was hammered down nearly 7 points to 145 1/2; du Pont broke six to 22 1/2, and commercial solvents dropped 5 1/2 to 16 1/2, selling of these issues undoubtedly being influenced by the formation of a huge European chemical trust, and by the falling off in Commercial Solvents earnings in the third quarter, compared with the same quarter last year.

Steel trade reviews are mixed. Iron Age detecting indications that a turn for the better was imminent, while the American Metal Market reports conditions have taken a definite turn for the worse. Republic Steel's third quarter earnings, made public today were only about one-third of those of the corresponding period last year. U. S. Steel common fell to 14 1/2 on the reaction.

Woolworth, General Electric, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, R. H. Macy, Mack Trucks, General Motors and Hudson, all sold off 4 or more points, but recoveries of 1 to 2 points from the low levels took place early in the afternoon.

Rails yielded with the industrials, although the losses were not as large. Delaware and Hudson, Jersey Central, Chesapeake and Ohio and Louisville and Nashville were the hardest hit.

POULTRY

MILK FEEDING IS CONSIDERED GOOD

Most milk feeding of poultry is considered a good thing and a money-maker if people have a little time in the fall, and are close enough to a town where the hotels or meat markets will buy the fowls at a special price. These people plan to have the springs and younger cockerels grow up with good-sized bones, and usually feed them up a few weeks before Thanksgiving. Young birds weighing from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 pounds are the best, as they make tender meat and take on flesh quickly.

Pen fattening is the best way of feeding them on the farm. The birds are placed in a coop where they will not exercise much, and the change in food is made gradually for two or three days. The following ration is recommended as giving good results:

2 pounds ground corn
1 pound ground whole oats
1 pound four middlings
8 pounds liquid buttermilk

This is mixed just before each meal, using skim milk if there is no buttermilk available. When fed it looks like pancake batter. Feed in troughs twice each day, and leave only enough before them so that they will clean it up in ten minutes for the first few days. If they are not hungry, do not force the feeding. It takes about eight pounds of feed for one pound of gain per chicken in fourteen days. Sometimes it pays to stop in ten to twelve days, if they are not gaining rapidly enough.

Grain Ration Valuable for Fattening Turkeys

Some turkey raisers feed equal parts of wheat and oats during the first part of the fattening season, gradually changing to corn as the weather becomes cooler. The common practice, however, is to begin feeding heavily on corn about November, and since turkeys are not accustomed to such heavy feeding, gours often result, especially if new corn is used. This practice of a sudden start with heavy feeding is to be discouraged. Old corn is a much better feed than new corn, but the old corn must be free from mustiness.

The best results in fattening are obtained when a grain ration of oats, wheat and corn is provided. A number of growers have tried fattening turkeys by confining them to small enclosures during the process, but with very little success. Turkeys confined to a pen usually will eat heartily for two or three days, but afterwards lose their appetites, and consequently, begin to lose flesh rapidly. On allowing them free range again, they pick up rapidly and are soon eating as heartily as ever, which seems to indicate that a certain amount of range is necessary to keep them in a good, healthy condition so that they are always eager to be fed.

Find Hostess to Pests
Makes Poor Egg Layer

A hen cannot feed worms and lay eggs. Poultry infested with worms are thin, droopy and emaciated and walk with an abnormal and stilted gait. On examination four kinds of worms may be found. They are: Large and small round worms, long tapeworms and nodular tapeworms. G. S. Vickers, poultry specialist at the Ohio State university, says: "All of them live in the intestinal tract of the hen. Treatment suggested for round worms is nicotine sulphate. If the hens are heavily infested, it is recommended that each bird receive a nicotine sulphate capsule. In other cases 2 per cent of tobacco dust in the dry mash for a month is satisfactory. This should be repeated every other month."

Kamala is the most satisfactory treatment for tapeworms yet discovered. The University of Wisconsin recommends half-grain capsules for individual treatment. Birds weighing a half to one pound should be given one capsule, those weighing one to two pounds two capsules, three capsules to those over two pounds.

High Protein Feed

Meat meal or meat scraps are high protein feeds and are found in most chick mashers or laying mashers. They are used in connection with dried buttermilk in many feeds to furnish the animal protein which is lacking in grains. Experiments have shown that chicks or laying hens do better when supplied with animal protein to balance up the protein and other ingredients found in grains. Be sure that these products are all clean, fresh and sweet.

Keep Roosters in Jar

Male birds running with the poultry flock will keep the eggs fertile, but the fertile eggs will not keep. The hens will lay just as many eggs if there are no male birds running around. Excepting in cases where high priced male birds have been purchased to use this past season in the flock, it will be cheaper to dispose of all the male birds than to feed them until the next breeding season. One of the best ways to handle them is to castrate them.

Village Has Long Name

There is a place in Wales known as Llanfair P. G. The spelling usually given is Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwlhantysyllgogoch. It signifies: "Church of St. Mary, in hollow of white hazel, near a rapid whirlpool and near St. Tysilio's church which is near a red cave."

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Hurley was held this morning from the residence of her sister, Mrs. John White of Ora Place, at 9 o'clock, and at 9:30 at St. Joseph's Church where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul.

The Rev. Martin P. O'Garra of St. Lawrence was eulogist, the Rev. Thomas P. Larkin of New York City deacon, and the Rev. Louis Cusack deacon. The church was filled with many friends, testifying to the high esteem in which she was held. At the conclusion of the Mass, Mrs. J. W. Leary rendered very feelingly "My Will Be Done," and as the body was borne from the church the children's home sang "Jesus, Jesus, Come to Me." The bearers were William White, Dennis Leach, Louis Stratton, Charles Mullen. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful. The funeral cortege was accompanied to St. Mary's cemetery by the Rev. Thomas P. Larkin and the Rev. Martin P. O'Garra who gave the final absolution at the grave.

Judicial Sarcasm

One of the best bits of judicial sarcasm on record was presented by the late Judge K. M. Wyanmaker of the Ohio Supreme court, who differed with his colleagues in a revolver case. He declared that if it is a crime for residents to have weapons in their homes, then a large percentage of the people of the state are criminals.

"The only safe course for them to pursue," he said, "is to hang the revolver on the wall and put below it a large placard with these words inscribed:

"The Ohio Supreme court having decided that it is a crime to carry a concealed weapon on one's person, in one's home, even in one's bed or bunk, this weapon is hung upon the wall that you may see it, and before you commit any burglary or assault, please, Mr. Burglar, hand me my gun."

President Pays
Tribute to Meade

Says General Was Man of Sufficient Character to Rely on His Own Judgment and Sufficient Confidence to Do What He Thought Was Right.

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP).—Accepting the monument in memory of General George Gordon Meade from the State of Pennsylvania on behalf of the government today, President Coolidge lauded the victor of Gettysburg as a "responsible and reliable commander," one whom inspired confidence and could be trusted. The monument is in the Botanical Gardens near the foot of the Capitol.

"The conflict in which he took such an important part," the President said, "has long since passed away. The peace which he loved has come. The reconciliation which he sought is complete. The loyalty to the flag he followed is universal. Through all of this shines his own immortal fame."

The life of the famous Civil War general was recounted in detail by Mr. Coolidge who found in Meade a man of "sufficient character to rely on his own judgment and sufficient confidence to do what he thought was right." This factor of Meade's character, the President said, was demonstrated strongly when after the winning of the Battle of Gettysburg, he declined to send his men in pursuit of Lee because he believed his army disorganized although the best military opinion of the moment was that he erred in remaining behind.

"When it is remembered that before this terrific engagement Meade had been in command of the army three days," Mr. Coolidge declared, speaking of the Gettysburg battle, "his victory becomes the more powerful."

"The more we study the history of the war in which he fought, the more General Meade stands out as a responsible and reliable commander. Others may have had more dash, though none surpassed him in courage."

"He did not engage himself in leading hopeless charges. He was, rather, a general who kept himself sufficiently informed as to the movements of his enemy and made such preparations and wise disposition of his own troops that hopeless charges were not necessary. It cannot be said he always won, but he experienced very little defeat."

"His personality was well rounded out. It appeared to possess no lofty peaks, it was not marred by any deep depression. If he was sometimes quick of temper he was eminently sound of judgment. He was a solid and substantial man, one who inspired confidence, one who could be trusted."

Memorial.

In sad and loving memory of Grant Cole, his wife, Gladys, and two sisters, Catherine Whipple and Fannie Cole.

Years have passed since that sad day When the ones we loved were called away.

A bitter grief, a shock severe, To part with those we love so dear.

A pleasant smile for all they met, And their kind hearts we never forget.

Only those who love can tell The heartache of saying the last farewell.

Trouble Ahead For Many Teams

Five Unbeaten Teams in Big Ten Circle Will Clash Hard Saturday—Injuries Keep Coaches on the Jump.

Chicago, Oct. 18 (AP)—The big ten's five unbeaten teams are looking for lots of trouble Saturday.

Two of the five—Illinois and Northwestern—play each other. Two others—Michigan and Minnesota—play Ohio and Iowa, respectively, while the fifth—Chicago—has a non-conference game with Pennsylvania.

Minnesota is regarded by some as already out of the championship running by reason of its last week with Indiana.

Northwestern, if it puts Illinois out of the picture Saturday, will have the smoothest path to the title of all. Purdue, Indiana and Iowa, all defeated teams, round out the Northwestern schedule.

Injuries and mediocre playing are keeping coaches on the jump patching their machines for the heavy going ahead. Herb Joesting's knee is still a bit uncertain and except for the opening game the Minnesota all-American fullback has not shown his last year's form. Tiny Lewis at Northwestern is giving Joesting a run for fullback honors this year.

Benny Oosterbaan, the other all-American left over from 1926, is grabbing passes as faithfully as ever, but the season is still too young to tell whether a first-class tosser can be found for the Michigan squad.

Coach Wilce has found a sophomore star in Arthur Huston at Ohio State and Jimmy Phelan has produced another at Purdue in Ralph Welch, but early games have not given much of a line on the season's stars.

Poughkeepsie Making Ready

Bridge City High School Extensively Prepares for Battle With Kingston—Some Disadvantages Confront Coach Kallioch.

Sam Kallioch, coach of the Poughkeepsie High School eleven, is putting his squad through drills relating to every phase of the game so that his squad may be ready to show up favorably against Kingston Saturday, October 20. The locals are being submitted to strenuous drills by Coach Kallioch of the Kingston High School squad and when the two aggregations meet an interesting battle should result.

The Poughkeepsie boys seem to be running into rather hard luck as far as injuries are concerned. A number of the griders are nursing hurts received in games or practice sessions. Field generalship is one of the main factors upon which the Poughkeepsie coach is dwelling considerably. His quarterback, Jake Feinstein, is being put through rigid tests daily in order to prepare for quick action against Kingston High. The line men are having no easy time in the practices and Coach Kallioch is endeavoring to have them work perfectly against the Maroon and White squad here a week from next Saturday.

TONY CANZONERI WILL MEET JOHNNY DUNDEE.

Tony Canzoneri, who has a training camp at Marlborough, will have what might be considered a chance to cup the featherweight title when he meets Johnny Dundee at Madison Square Garden next Monday night. Canzoneri was scheduled to meet Benny Bass some time ago, a boxer recognized by the National Boxing Association as a recent meeting, as the featherweight title holder. However, the match was cancelled and the Marlborough scrapper did not get his chance.

Dundee retired from the ring an undefeated champion in the featherweight class and contends that as he can now make the weight and was in possession of the title upon retiring he can now enter the ring as the title holder. However, the view of the National Boxing Association as to Dundee's entering the ring as the defender of the title is not known yet. Authorities say that Sammy Goldman, Canzoneri's manager, has petitioned President Thomas Donohue, of the National Boxing Association, to recognize the Dundee-Canzoneri tilt as a title match.

CHANDLERS TO PLAY AT POUGHKEEPSIE

The Chandler basketball club of Kingston will play the Presbyterian team of Poughkeepsie at the latter place on October 25. The Presbyterian team took high honors the past few years in the Sunday School League and expect to give the Chandlers a stiff battle. The Chandlers have received their new uniforms, and will have their pictures taken with a new model Chandler car, the "Royal Eight", in front of the Broadway Garage.

The following men will be in the Chandler line-up: Niles and Fox will play the forward positions. Kennedy will play center, with Blass, Smith and Dulin playing guards.

CHANGES IN BOXING CARD AT POUGHKEEPSIE.

Two changes have been made in the card of bouts to be presented at Woodcliff Park, Thursday, under the auspices of the Poughkeepsie Industrial League. Joe Colletti, clever 118 pounder, will meet Eddie Enos of New York instead of Frankie Minerva and Jerry Samper of Poughkeepsie will stack up against Joe Kelly of New York instead of George Franks of the Metropolis. Colletti's opponent, Eddie Enos, appeared at the local armory when the bouts were staged here last winter. Joe Kelly of New York will be a new-comer to the Hudson valley fairs. He has met some fast men and no doubt will do his best against Samper.

Let not your angry passion rise. You tell me is your code; Suppress them, though, and I surmise They'll be apt to explode.

Important Grid Battles Saturday

New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—The removal of football hostilities between Princeton and Cornell after a 24 year lapse is holding a good share of the east's attention this week. These old rivals who last met at Ithaca in 1907, will play Saturday before a packed Cornell stadium. The contest is reported to be a sell-out, with the last of the tickets taken long ago.

Princeton's record to date appears to be more formidable, with victories over Amherst, Lehigh and Washington and Lee while keeping its goal line unbreached. Cornell has met and beaten Clarkson, Niagara and Richmond. Their styles offer a marked contrast, Cornell's emphasis being on offense and Princeton's on defense.

The Yale-Army game at New Haven will find Tad Jones' team struggling to erase the 33-0 humiliation it suffered last year at the hands of the cadets. It will be Jones' last stand against Army as he is retiring from the coaching game to private business at the end of the year. A fine individual battle between two star backs, Harry Wilson of Army and Bruce Caldwell of Yale, is in prospect.

A greatly improved Harvard eleven will pit its strength against a Dartmouth team that has shown a fast running attack and a good overhead game. Harvard has encountered stiffer opposition than has the big Green but Jesse Hawley's men have shown unusual scoring power.

Syracuse, one of the surprise teams of the east, will try to uphold its perfect record of never being scored on by Penn State. Another individual battle promises to feature the meeting between Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson. Navy tears into Duke University, conqueror of Boston College earlier in the season. Penn minus some of its backfield regulars and Utz, a guard, has a dismal road ahead that leads to Chicago. Pittsburgh, who shares with Princeton the honor of being the only team of major importance in the east not yet scored upon, stacks up against Carnegie Tech.

BECKWITH MAY PLACE NINE HERE NEXT SEASON

According to baseball enthusiasts of Poughkeepsie who keep a rather sharp lookout concerning the national sport in the bridge city, Guy Beckwith, promoter of that place, will place a semi-pro team in Kingston next season. According to information given out in Poughkeepsie he will endeavor to procure a strong lineup for the staging of games here. Benny Borgman, basketball star, and member of several good baseball outfits: Maury McDermott, Eddie Phelan, Nels Dewey, Jack Robins and Bud Culloton are among the players with whom possible negotiations will be made concerning affiliations with the Beckwiths.

Beckwith made an effort to furnish Poughkeepsie with high class baseball several years ago but failed owing chiefly it is said to the undesirable park where games were staged. It is known that Kingston is a rather fair supporter of baseball clubs who have the goods and Beckwith contemplates furnishing high calibre games here next season.

CHRYSLER FIVE ORGANIZES FOR COMING SEASON

Mourn Death Of Film Magnate

Los Angeles, Oct. 19 (AP)—Film-land today mourned the death of William H. (Uncle Bill) Clune, who was one of the pioneers on the trail that led motion pictures out of the penny arcades and nickelodeons into the glittering movie palaces of the present day.

A paralytic stroke yesterday resulted in the death of the 65 year old film magnate, whose vision a quarter of a century ago of what the film industry was to become rewarded with a fortune estimated at $24,000,000.

O. K. Evans, secretary of the Clune company, the holding corporation of the Clune interests, said the bulk of the estate was bequeathed to the theatre man's son, J. W. Clune, who is president of the holding company. A sister, Miss Mary Clune of Hannibal, Mo., Clune's birthplace, was provided for.

McLARNIN KNOCKS OUT KAPLAN IN EIGHTH ROUND

Chicago, Oct. 19 (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin's flying fists beat a peremptory challenge to Sammy Mandell, the lightweight champion, when they knocked out Louis (Kid) Kaplan, former featherweight titleholder, in the eighth round last night.

Coming out of the west behind a blaze of advance notices which Chicago fight fans took with cellars of the best things that had been said of him, McLarnin, who was being polished for a chance at the lightweight title, offered solid resistance at the start but faded under the McLarnin whaling.
